WILL NOT CHANGE NAME OF CHURCH

Proposal Is Lost by One Vote in House of Deputies.

VIGOROUS FIGHT MADE

Victory Now for Advocates of Separate Bishops for Colored Churches.

Cincinnati, O., October 15.—The proposal to change the name of the church was lost by one vote in the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Convention today. The resumption of the debate on the proposed change of name of the Protestant Episcopal Church by leaving the word "Protestant" out and adding the title of "Holy Catholic Church" to the title page of the Book of Common Prayer, was marked by intense interest and feverish eagerness to speak on the part of the members of the House of Deputies.

The Rev. Carl E. Grammer, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, was the first speaker in opposition to the change. "No scholar with any respect for his scholarship nor any student who has respect for his language could favor the name proposed," he said. "It would put us in a ludicrous position, from which we would be obliged to recede, if we advertised ourselves as being that part of the Episcopal Church known as the 'Protestant Episcopal Church' and then, as such, we would be traveling under an alias."

A distinct victory for the advocates of separate bishops for the colored churches was won in the committee of constitutional amendments, which reported favorably the proposed amendments provided for mission districts on racial lines, provided the bishop and clergy of the diocese affected give permission.
